The Wheaton College Endowed Scholarship Fund is an important commitment to our students made entirely possible by the willingness of friends of the College to consistently make generous and substantial gifts to Christian education at Wheaton. We express our appreciation to each of these dedicated supporters and list the name of each scholarship below.

Wheaton College gratefully accepts contributions from donors who desire to create or add to a perpetual fund which financially assists worthy students in attaining a Christian education. These funds, known as Endowed Scholarship Funds, distribute each year a stated percentage of the principal value of the fund for student scholarships and may be funded with contributions from a number of donors, an individual donor, or a family of donors.

Endowed Scholarships are of two general types: General Endowed Scholarship Funds which distribute scholarships with no restrictions except for the general requirement of student financial need; Specific Endowed Scholarship Funds which distribute scholarships to students who have financial need but who also meet a particular requirement (for example, a particular major, professional goal, or grade average) designated by the donor.

The funding level for unrestricted endowed scholarship funds is contributions of $5,000 or more. Restricted endowed scholarship funds are fully funded when $25,000 or more in gifts are received. When restricted endowed scholarship funds are fully funded, they begin to distribute restricted award income according to the criteria outlined in a scholarship's agreement. Until that time, restricted endowed scholarships distribute unrestricted award income.

These scholarships represent a portion of the total financial aid budget each year, and therefore, specific applications for these funds are not necessary.

Billy Graham Center Scholarship Program

The Billy Graham Center Scholarship Program supports graduate study at Wheaton College for men and women in Christian service overseas and in North American urban contexts. It is comprised of named funds honoring individuals who have contributed to the cause of evangelism and missions worldwide. Awards from the funds are available to internationals, furloughing missionaries, workers in urban ministries, and those preparing for missionary service outside North America.
