EDUC 599	Final Project Continuation	Fall, Spring, Summer
----------	----------------------------	----------------------

After taking EDUC 597, Scholarly Inquiry Paper, MAT students should continue to enroll in EDUC 599, Final Project Continuation in each subsequent semester until their scholarly inquiry paper is finally approved. A $50.00 fee will be charged for each semester (fall, spring) of Final Project Continuation. M.A.T. course work completers who do not register for each semester of continuation or fail to complete the scholarly inquiry paper within five years of the first term as a full MAT student will be dropped from the degree program (i.e. fall 2022 graduate course work beginners must fully complete the scholarly inquiry paper by Aug. 31, 2027).

In consultation with the MAT coordinator, an MAT student who wants to conduct a research in an educational setting after completion of the course requirements may petition to switch to EDUC 698, Thesis. Each subsequent semester until the thesis is completed the student must enroll in EDUC 699, Thesis Continuation ($50 fee). The five-year requirement for thesis completion remains in effect.

<sup>1</sup>The methods practicum and the learning differences practicum are combined as one, 60-clock-hour practicum experience. Candidates should plan to be at their placement school on M-F, 7:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. for the entire month of April.

When either the scholarly inquiry paper or the thesis is satisfactorily completed and accepted by Buswell Library for the College's archives, the Master of Arts in Teaching degree will be awarded.
