

Contacting Author Literary Estates

Marion E. Wade Center

Contacting literary estate agents is necessary for reproductions or publication permissions on all Wade author primary source materials, with the exception of George MacDonald, whose works are in the public domain. Send your request to the appropriate literary estate (see next page for contact information), and forward the permissions you receive to the Wade Center archival staff at wade@wheaton.edu. If you do not hear back from the literary estate in 2 weeks, try contacting them again.

For all permissions-related correspondence sent to literary estates, and the Wade Center, be sure to include the following:

- Your Institution Affiliation (if applicable)
- Proposed Title and Brief Overview of your Project
- A brief statement on your Background and Involvement with [Wade Author] studies (if applicable)

For reproduction permissions

- Provide a list of the items you want copied with complete descriptions
- Page counts
- Call numbers or collection locations at the Wade Center
- Information on how these materials will benefit your research
- State how they will be used, and if they are for your sole personal research use

For publication permissions

- Include the exact quotes you wish to publish
- Their citations & Word counts
- Information about the publication; where quotes will appear, and how they will be used
- Provide the print run for the publication and its area of distribution
- Any other relevant information
